Give Trucks a Wide Berth They always have the "Right of Weight"

THE truck was a big brute—wide, long, and none too wieldy.

The merchandise that made up its seventeen load represented an important part of the daily food supply of the city to which it was consigned.

The driver had been doing his best to keep plugging along—always well within the speed limit.

Right at this curve the driver of the sport car wanted to "cut in" ahead of the sedan. In five seconds more the truck would have passed and the way would have been clear. But rather than wait, Mr. Sport took a chance.

The truck driver—in his proper place well to the side of the road—couldn't turn out. So it happened . . . a side swipe . . . the ditch!

Motoring on the highways would be so much safer if everybody would remember that, in any argument with a truck, the best one can get is the worst of it.

One Good Rule that isn't in the Book.
